Dear Dr. Fletcher:

Will you please tell me from whom your new book of Indian songs can be procured?

I have tried all the well known stores in this city but am unable to find who carries it. I thought would write you before getting in touch with Scribner's.

Am enclosing a stamped envelope for reply and should appreciate your courtesy in letting me hear from you.

With kindest thoughts for good health,

Sincerely,

Nelle M. Watts

Dear Mrs. Watts:

I have not published anything from my collection of Indian Songs, and have no present prospect of so doing--tho' I have nearly 500 songs, in thirty-seven different Indian languages, on my wax cylinders.

Probably you are thinking of my "Spanish Songs of Old California," which I issued in December, and which is having a very large sale. I enclose circular. You can get the Book from me postpaid on receipt of price.

With best wishes,

Sincerely Yours

Mrs. Nellie M. Watts,
